JORDAN KAPPOLE - INTRODUCTION

Jordan Koppole got his start in photography as a young teenager. Grownup in Kavali, AP, India began his journey as photographer.

Working in the IT industry and his passion for travel only drew him closer to photography. Be it the calmness in nature, dangers of wildlife, stillness in portraits, cheerful celebrations, the buzz on the street or narrating a story using photo as a medium he has captured it all with his lens. He did get into commercial photography, on many occasions helped out his professional photography friends as well.

Moved to US 5 years back and with full time work and family, he continues to explore and learn photography and light. He lives in Atlanta, GA with his wife Rini and son John.
